Arson took Morgan barn and their winter hay today -- request for help

Sun Jan 10, 2016 5:41 pm (PST) .

Posted on the Lippitt Morgan Yahoo List:

"My friend Elyse Henault's barn in Warren, Mass. was set ablaze early today."

"... the horses were so brave and smart - when their barn went up in flames, they ran out and put themselves as far away as they could, and then they waited calmly for her [Elyse] to come and help them. She is so proud of them. They didn't panic when she moved them out - if they had, it could have been a bad situation. But I guess Morgans are level headed!

She said that there were sparks flying everywhere - it must have been frightening for every creature. Her dog Eloise woke her around 3 - Elyse knew from the sounds she made that there was something she had better pay attention to. Thank goodness for that dog!

This reminds me a little of that Christmas tale about an old couple and their old mare, who led the herd to safety when the barn caught fire. It grabs me every time.

Hope you will consider donating to the GoFundMe --
